Geoff Higginbottom

Traditional folk song with guitars, bodhran and dulcimer seasoned with humour.

 Appearing at: -

After 8 years on the folk scene Geoff Higginbottom took the plunge in September 1986 and decided to turn full-time.

Geoff plays 6 & 12 string guitars, bodhran, and Appalachian dulcimer as well as singing unaccompanied and performs a wide variety of material. He sings traditional songs (his powerful singing voice being ideal for the chorus songs he loves) and also contemporary songs on a wide range of subjects and from a variety of different sources. He has recently started to include more of his own material in his repertoire. The whole act is spiced with Geoff's delightful sense of humour — some of his anecdotes have left audiences helpless with laughter.

Geoff is still based in his native North West of England where he has been a well known figure on the local scene for many years. Over the last 5 or 6 years Geoff has toured the country extensively with folk club bookings all over England, Scotland, Wales & the Channel Islands. In that time he has been booked at many folk festivals including Sidmouth, Broadstairs, Fylde, Chippenham, Poynton, Redditch, Sutton, Swinton, Billinge, Macclesfield, Redcar, Whitchurch Northwich, Warwick, Wadebridge and Stanford-in-the-Vale.

Geoff has made many appearances on B.B.C. local radio and in 1987 he was invited to contribute one of his own songs, "Spare The Child" to B.B.C. Radio Manchester's highly acclaimed "Children in Need" album. He has also been seen on television several times recently both as an actor in soap operas such as Brookside and Coronation Street and as a singer on B.B.C. T.V.'s North West Tonight programme.

I hope this bit of blurb has proved informative; if you would like to know more or would like any references please contact Geoff at:

Tel: 061 432 5083

If you have not heard Geoff and would like a brief preview before considering him for a booking at your club, give him a call and he will supply you with a demo tape.

THE CLEVELAND FOLK CLUB (1985)

Goes FULL CIRCLE (1995), then On and On.

The CLEVELAND FOLK CLUB opened in October 1985, then moved to other venues in 1990 & 1991, returning to The CLEVELAND in 1995. Thus the change of title to the FULL CIRCLE FOLK CLUB.

Moving on again, through various other venues, connections to the 1985 CLEVELAND & FULL CIRCLE days still attend the PARKSIDE club.

Some 'run' indeed - 25 years.

One Night Only
All-day party

by DON FRAME

An all-day folk festival is being planned as part of this year's Manchester Festival, along the successful Folk-Aid lines, and will be held on Saturday, September 26, in the Town Hall, with profits to Shelter North West.

The city's Crumpsall-based Cleveland Hotel folk club are organizing the day and have several big-name performers in mind to play at the main evening concert. The Cleveland would welcome the support of other clubs. The thinking at the moment is to allow each club involved a set amount of time to take the stage. The organizers are also planning separate "sessions" for musicians to play outside the formal folk club network.

A number of folk events are planned during the festival, including a concert at the Library Theatre, Manchester, on Sunday, September 13, and on Wednesday, September 16, the legendary John Martyn is at the Free Trade Hall. This year is something of a special one for him too; his 20th year as a professional musician. The main events are at the Free Trade Hall on Saturday, the 19th, and the same night sees the Cajuns and the Zydeco Brothers at St Thomas's Centre. During the afternoon, musicians will be competing in Albert Square for the Manchester Festival Busker's Trophy, cash prizes, and the Green Room Baskers Award. Entries need to be in by September 11.

A traditional Irish night is being staged next Friday at the Chatham Hill Irish Centre to raise cash to help send young Irish from the local branch of the Irish Connacht movement to Ireland to compete in the All-Ireland Music Championships. The young people aged between 12 and 16 recently won the All-Canada title in Liverpool, and they have high hopes of reaching up another success at the end of August. Artists taking part next Friday include Peter Carberry, Paddy McMahon, and Angela Usher. Tickets are £1 on the door.

A Stockport host is a main event of the day, with Blues and Roots Deansgate Mike Chappel and his problems being held between 23. The event will be held a number of times throughout the years at the Golden Jade.
Lorna's club gets a home

CRUMPSALL Folk Club has a new home after ending a long run at the Cleveland Hotel.

Organiser Lorna Egan says she is delighted with the move.

The club will be held in an upstairs room with its own bar and, for those who miss the candles on the table, they will be back.

Guest

Belmont hosts Danny and Laura Pearce are keen to do all they can to promote the venture. Door prices at £1.25 are among the best value around.

The guest tonight is Andy Brotherton.

The pair have put together a highly entertaining cassette of material called Chimneypot Skyline. This is selling well to visitors to the city's museums and civic centres, and Tony and Pete are in increasing demand for gigs.

Both have been on the folk scene for years, though they formed a partnership only recently.

Hanky Park, named after an area of Salford long gone, will appeal to anyone with connections in the area.

Many of the cassettes may well end up in homes in far-flung corners of the globe, bringing the odd tear to the eye.

The repertoire is funny despite the nostalgia, and there are some good songs, too.

You can see the lads tonight at Arthur Wakefield's club at the Dog and Partridge in Bollington, Macclesfield.

The band split up some time ago, but have occasional reunions, this being one of them.

Music Day

IT'S Music Day in Macclesfield once again.

For the second year running, a day-long music festival is being staged in the town tomorrow to raise cash for local charities.

Venues are the town's Senior Citizens' Hall, along with three town centre pubs, the George Hotel, the Millstone and the Three Crowns.

The organisers have attempted to cater for all musical tastes, and you'll find everything from folk to rock 'n' roll.

Continuous

If you're looking for strictly folk and acoustic music, the George, in Jordangate, is the pub to aim for, though there's continuous music at the Senior Citizens' Hall from 2pm until 11.30pm.

Among those appearing will be George Borowski and his band, the Booze Brothers, Two's Company, Cancellation Ceilidh Band, Tony Sykes, Arthur Wakefield, Tanis, Ken Powell and Holly Burton and the Roger Read Blues Band.

CRUMPSALL folk club has a permanent new home at last.

You may recall it has led a somewhat nomadic existence since regular Friday night sessions at the Cleveland Hotel ended some months ago.

Lorna Egan, who formerly ran the Cleveland club, will still be involved, but has her hands full with organising the Monday night club at the Old Bear's Head in Middleton.

The Bear's, which has recently been refurbished, is going strong, with a healthy influx of new faces.

Steeleye stars hit road again

With a new album out, and a new band supporting them, they're on tour throughout this month, with two local dates slated in.

You can see them at Poynton Folk Centre a week tomorrow and at Bolton Octagon Theatre the following night.

Maddy and Rick, of course, need little introduction.

An essential part of folk-rock band Steeleye Span, they have made enormous contributions to folk music both within and apart from the band.

Incomparable

The touring band includes Nick Holland on keyboards and vocals, Richard Lee on acoustic bass and Michael Gregory on drums.

THE incomparable Harvey Andrews is guest this Sunday at Skeletons folk club at High Lane Conservative Club.

Harvey is celebrating no less than a quarter of a century on the road, and he's singing better than ever.

Over the years he's had more than 200 songs published.

Distinctive

Funny, sad, occasionally bitter, they all tell a story, and many, like The Soldier and Margaret, have already become classics of their kind.

Guests are Hanky Park — Tony Downes and Pete Martin — with their distinctive brand of nostalgia and fun, and tickets are £2.50 each, which includes a hot pot supper.

Inquiries please to club organizer Peter Worthington on 061-740 1735.

ALTAN... new Gaelic-roots band making their Manchester debut next Wednesday at the Band in the Wall

Hot, sweet taste of Gaelic

EXCITING new Irish band Altan make their Manchester debut next Wednesday when you can see them at the Band on the Wall in Swan Street, Manchester.

They're reckoned to be just about the hottest new traditional outfit to cross the water, and this is apparently their only north west appearance.

Their third album, Horse with a Heart, was the highest-placed Irish album in the Folk Roots magazine experts' poll last year, as well as being awarded a folk album of the year award.

The line-up is: Mairead Ni Mhaonaigh (fiddle and vocals), Frankie Kennedy (flute), Ciaran Curran (bouzouki), Mark Kelly (guitar) and Paul O'Shaughnessy (fiddle).

- THERE might well be a new regular folk venue to add to your diaries, if a trial night next Thursday is a success.

It's at the Red Lion pub at Ellenbrook, just off the East Lancashire Road between Walkden and Worsley, and it's being run by Steve Robinson, who used to run a popular club at the Eagle and Child in Whitefield some years ago.

Steve, who went on to play with Westhoughton-based band Auld Triangle for several years, believes the Red Lion is ideal.

He will be aided and abetted on the night by Paul Frost and Mark Traynor, and special guests are The Likes of Us.

Singers will be welcome, but it might be advisable to ring Steve first on 061-702 0665.

- PETER BELLAMY, one of the most influential singers and writers to spring from the folk revival, is in the Manchester area for a number of dates next week, starting with Swinton's White Lion club on Monday.

Peter became a professional singer in the mid-sixties, and enjoyed success as lead singer with The Young Tradition.

For the past 20 years he has been a major force. He's made numerous albums, both of his own songs and his own settings of the poems of Rudyard Kipling.

TUESDAY: To Hell with Burgundy, New Treacle, Follies Wine Bar, Worsley, Manchester; Peter Bellamy: Railway, Lamb Lane, Worsley. Doyledon, Singers: Crown, Bandbach, Tap and Spile, Hope Street, Rochdale.

THURSDAY: Peter Bellamy, Railway, Heaton, near Liverse, The Likes of Us, Red Lion, Eccles Street, near Worsley.

JOE STEAD

Joe Stead has been a well-known man on the folk scene for a long time, as an artist, agent and record company boss. He visits Essex clubs now and then - most recently he was at Chelmsford earlier this year.

On this album we find Joe in serious mood with a bumper bundle of songs (21, hence the title) which all demonstrates a gusying social and political commitment. For those who saw Joe in the seventies, when he was better known as a comic, this could be quite a surprise. There are not many laughs here, but you get the feeling that Joe Stead has found a new lease of life from his new direction.

The songs are a mixture of traditional (some with updated words) and new, by such writers as Graeme Miles (4 of his), Jim Garland (2), plus several others including Joe himself. There is also a song by Pete Seeger ("My Dirty Stream") and if I had never heard of Joe before, I would say he sounded like an English Pete Seeger, right down to the worthy causes and use of simple but effective banjo on several tracks. Probably the most striking song here is the witty "My Eldorado" by Graeme Miles, that has the kind of appeal to ensure it a place on quite a few albums before long. Some songs are just solo voice, and the rest of the arrangements are sparse and clean with Joe's banjo or guitar plus nice harmonies from Martyn Wynham Read, Julie Waring and the Wilson Family. The album is well recorded and uncluttered.

Full marks to Joe for championing new writers, and value for money for the number of songs - other artists take note! To give him his credit, Joe has always encourages others - he recorded his label in the seventies our own Sylvia Kelly's group Stained Glass (that's Sylvia who runs the monthly club at Castle Hedingham) for instance.

Joe Stead has never been hailed as a great player or singer, but he makes up for it here with the urgency if his delivery and only rarely verges on the worthy-but-dull propaganda bit that can be a trap for artists of his obvious passion. He could be our answer to Pete Seeger, but I still think that if he could bring a little of his own old humour into his new work, he might find his true voice speaking even stronger, without the risk of sounding a bit too serious and downbeat. Commitment plus humour can really say something, and even Seeger uses humour. Still, this is another side of a multi-talented man, and if he keeps the bold innovation shown here, he is the kind of man we can all learn from and respect.

A CROSS SECTION OF RECENT COMMENTS FROM FOLK CLUB ORGANISERS AND COMPETERS FROM THE CHANNEL ISLANDS TO THE NORTH OF ENGLAND HAVE INCLUDED:

"The best night we've had at this club in living memory". - SOUTH FOLK CLUB.
"Joe has been a regular guest at this club since the 1960's. I never cease to be amazed. He just gets better and better". - STONEY STRATFORD FOLK CLUB.
"The best night at the club so far this summer". - GUINNESS FOLK CLUB.
"What a pleasure to listen for once to an evening of Good Old Fashioned folk songs, a marvellous night". - BANBURY FOLK CLUB.

"I give artistes marks out of 10 when deciding the impact they have made on this club. It's very seldom I do this but tonight I must give Joe Stead 10 out 10 for enthusiasm, 10 out of 10 for musicianship, 10 out of 10 for content of programme (and incidentally I have never heard so many songs packed into one evening by one artiste before) in fact I can only give the man full marks for everything, and I can assure those of you who have already asked that he will be back again at this club next year without doubt". - KINGSWINFORD FOLK CLUB.
"Thank you for Joe for a wonderful evening and such beautiful songs". - ANDOVER FOLK CLUB.
"You've had encore's, enough is enough, Joe will be back again next year I am sure". - SOUTHAMPTON FOLK CLUB.

THE HARRY BOARDMAN MEMORIAL TRUST
WORKING FOR TRADITIONAL AND FOLK ARTS
IN THE NORTH-WEST OF ENGLAND

Dear Club Organiser,

The Harry Boardman Memorial Trust is a fairly new body which seeks to build on the legacy of northern folk-related material which Harry left us when he died in 1887.

The trust is working to support and promote traditional and folk arts in the north-west, and in order to raise the necessary funds, has organised a ceilidh as detailed on the enclosed publicity material, which we hope you will be able to display.

Please encourage your members to support the event, which promises to be rather different from the usual run of ceilidhs. The Band of the Rising Sun's repertoire concentrates on the wealth of northern tunes extensively researched by band member Janie Knowles and friends over several years, including a number of Lancashire 3/2 hornpipes which Jean Seymour's excellent calling will guide you through. We hope to have Rumworth or Gorton Morris (who knows, possibly both!) and there will be song spots from Brian Peters, Joe Kerrins and others. All this for a mere £3!

But the good news doesn't end there. As an extra incentive, we are offering a 10 per cent reduction for groups of ten or more, so why not have a club trip?

For tickets (s.a.e please) or other information, please contact:

21 February 1995

Dear Peter,

I should like to thank you, on behalf of the H.B.M.T. Committee, for taking part in the 'Lancashire Night' on 10 February. Everyone agreed it was a very successful and enjoyable evening, which wouldn't have been possible without the fine contributions from you and the other artistes, and we greatly appreciate all the time and effort which went into the event.

We are hoping to stage many such events in the future and hope we can look forward to your continuing support.

Thanking you once again.

Yours sincerely,

Lesley Boardman (Secretary)
H.B.M.T. Committee
Dear Peter,

Just a brief note to let you know that regrettably, the Friday night folk diary in the Manchester Evening News has come to an end. I returned from a week’s holiday today to be told there will be no more columns, but there is a possibility of them being reinstated in the Autumn. I had been given no prior warning of the decision, which was taken apparently, because of pressure of space on pages. It seems very sad that the diary should so abruptly cease after an unbroken run of around twenty years, but sadly, that’s life. I certainly had no wish to stop writing the weekly piece which I have thoroughly enjoyed. If you have found the column of value and would want to see it continue, a line to the editor would certainly do no harm: Mr M. Unger, at the above address. May I take this opportunity to offer sincere thanks for all the help you’ve given over the years, and best wishes for continued success.

Dear Peter,

I’m delighted to let you know that the weekly folk column in the Manchester Evening News is to re-start on a permanent basis from Saturday July 27. As you will be aware the column disappeared some weeks ago without warning, although there was a suggestion it might reappear in the Autumn. Thanks are due to all who took the trouble to write to the editor – I’m sure that was responsible for doing the trick. I would be grateful if you could let me have details of your club dates/special concerts/festivals etc. as soon as possible, as the folk ‘machinery’ has become a little rusty through lack of use. For guidance, I have been told that columns have to be completed ready for publication eight days in advance ie. my copy deadline will always be the Friday a full week before the column appears on the Saturday. Once again, sincere thanks to all who put pen to paper, and I look forward to hearing from you.

*Please excuse computer-print letter, but my handwriting’s illegible!

Cheers,

The Harry Boardman Memorial Trust

Harry Boardman, the celebrated Lancastrian folk singer and scholar, died in 1987. Harry was a distinguished and influential singer and musician and a major force in the North West of England folk music scene, running clubs and events, making recordings and broadcasts, carrying out research, and encouraging many others in the region to follow in his footsteps.

The Harry Boardman Memorial Trust was set up in 1991 by Lesley Boardman and a group of volunteers involved with folk song, dance and music in the North West, with the aim of promoting traditional arts in the area.

Initial activities included a successful memorial concert involving top folk artists such as the Watersons, and a re-release of Harry Boardman’s "Golden Stream" album on cassette.

The trust is now planning more projects for the future.

CARYTH IN CONCERT!

We've got a real treat coming up for you: on Friday, June 23, the top name in English traditional folk, Caryth, is coming to Manchester for a special all-star concert organised by HBMT. Most of you will need no introduction to Caryth's talents and track record: a great singer, inventor of the definitive English folk guitar style, a fantastic musician with a deep knowledge and commitment to the tradition; member of Steeleye Span, Brass Monkey, Band of Hope and duettist with Dave Swarbrick. But that's not all - also on the bill we have the best of the North West: singer and multi-instrumentalist Brian Peters, local Celtic band Spike Island, the excellent young singer Chris Kenworthy and Joe Kerins, fine singer from Ireland, with Chris Cole as M.C. They'll all be appearing at the Underground Theatre, Barnes Wallis Building, U.M.I.S.T., a superb venue bridging the gap between concert hall and club. The Institute of Science and Technology is on Sackville Street, off Whitworth St., and a short walk from Oxford Rd. or Piccadilly Station. Parking is possible in the surrounding streets, and U.M.I.S.T. has an attended car park, though there's a charge for this. Doors open at 7.45 p.m. and we start at 8 prompt, so don't be late! Tickets for this great concert are on sale to the public at £5, but Friends of HBMT can obtain them at the special rate of only £3! At that price you'd be mad to miss it. You can get in by paying at the door, but if you want to make sure of your ticket, write enclosing cheque payable to The Harry Boardman Memorial Trust, and SAE to 166 Tottington Rd., Bury BL8 1RU.

COMMITTEE

Following the Trust's EGM in January, the membership of the committee is as follows: Chair, Jean Seymour; Secretary, Lesley Boardman; Treasurer, Joe Kerins; Membership/minutes, Jan Cole; Publicity, Chris Whitting; Events/Newsletter, Brian Peters; Asst. Events, Alan Seymour; Judy Whitting.

ARCHIVES

A hot topic just now, with John Houson's report on the Folk Arts Archive Research Project just published, with a list of 270 private and public collections of folk-related material. HBMT has received a communication from The Greater Manchester Records Office, declaring their interest in becoming a centre for folk archiving - any member know of any stuff that might be relevant to them? Meanwhile HBMT has been in touch with Barry Seddon, former 'Evening News' folk columnist and trustee of the Paul Graney Archive, to find out what's happening on that front. Members have often asked us about this, since there's been little news of the project for several years, after a flurry of fund-raising events in the early eighties. Barry tells us that progress is being made, but it's slow and painstaking since the body of taped material - interviews, chat, recordings of legendary performers in their early years - is so enormous. Eventually they hope to transfer all the material from the original tapes (many of which are now seriously deteriorating) to modern recording media, and make them available to the public. More power to their elbow!

MANCHESTER BALLADS

HBMT has been offering for sale stock of this superb collection of facsimile broadsides, compiled by Harry Boardman and Roy Palmer, for some time, but we have now renegotiated the wholesale price to the Trust from Manchester Education Committee. As a result, the price of 'Manchester Ballads' has been substantially reduced to £12.50, members' concessory price £10.00. Orders, enclosing a cheque made out as above, to 67 Elms Road, Heaton Moor, Stockport, Cheshire, SK4 4PT.

Kath Reade writes her own contemporary songs which will amuse you, move you and stay with you, long after you have seen her. North West Folk Magazine described her voice as "a dynamic combination of Bessie Smith and Billie Holliday." .... You'll just say "brilliant". Kath has just released her third cassette tape entitled "Free from Additives" and is rapidly gaining a strong reputation on the N.W. circuit for her straight-ahead, no-nonsense approach to music.

GARY AND VERA ASPHEY

“STORIES” captured from life itself, and related with ........

“SONGS” whether in harmony or presented solo by Vera (otherwise known as ‘THE BAND’). The separate talents of GARY AND VERA ASPHEY combine to make a well-worked team.

Prior to turning professional in 1974 Gary was an engineer - but he’s better now! - while Vera held a position of a supervisor at Marks and Spencer - making it obvious why they work so well together - Gary keeps the wheels turning, with Vera at the controls.

They became widely known on the folk scene, but have extended their presentation of “Stories”, “Songs” and “Humour” to a much wider audience, encompassing Sports and Social Clubs, Parent/Teacher Associations, Round Table, Masonic and Ladies Evenings to name but a few, and have performed to date at many theatres throughout the country including the Royal Exchange Theatre, Manchester, the Fairfield Hall, Croydon and several notable Arts Centres and Festivals. They have worked ‘Theatre in-the-round’ and have also presented their show in certain theatres and festivals, with the added visual attraction of slide illustration to the songs, using their own rear screen projection and dissolve unit facilities.

GARY AND VERA ASPHEY’S audience appeal is wide, as the content of their programme ranges from a modern situation of warning people in song not to get married, to the hazards of working on nightshift, but they also revive nostalgic memories for the people who can remember life before television.

Their performance is held together and interwoven with humour, ad-libs and tale-telling, giving an entertaining and informative background to the songs they sing, which includes some of their self-penned compositions.

They never clapped me like that

Songs, squibs, and a couple of poems by ERIC WINTER

EARLY in 1992, I started to sort out my songs—most of them were scribbled on the backs of envelopes. I was surprised to find that there were about 40 songs and another 40 squibs (parodies, additional verses to songs, and so on). Heigh-ho, I thought, that sounds like a song book.

Roaming round the folk scene as a passing scribbler, I’ve made hundreds of friends. John Hasted, founder of the London Youth Choir and a seminal influence in the early folk clubs, taught me to project a song to an audience—important to me as I have no voice to write home about. Hasted used to say: “There are two kinds of people—those who can sing and those who don’t yet know they can sing.”

Hamish Henderson showed me by example that good words need good tunes. He did not write the music for his own songs, but he took good care to borrow only the best tunes.

Alex Comfort, well known as a writer and sexologist, is also an accomplished song-smith. From him I learned to write in a demotic fashion. He was acutely sensitive to vernacular speech and idiom.

From Pete Seeger I picked up the virtue of simplicity. He once said to me: “I used to think you should never try to put across more than one idea per verse. Now I realise that one idea per song is enough.”

When I was sorting my songs, I came across the paraphernalia (the detritus, perhaps) of forty-plus years of creative work—album sleeves and inserts, posters, tickets, and 24 song books I have edited/designed/compiled. Then there are 65 issues of Sing magazine, and the press cuttings of some eleven years as regular columnist of Melody Maker, Music Maker, and New Musical Express. Clubs and concerts, festivals and friends, roses and wine...it was all a lot of fun.

A couple of thank you’s. To my good friend Jo Kirkman for invaluable help with typing and copy preparation. And to the Canadian folklorist and collector Keith Fowke who took the wonderful cover picture when she stayed with us in 1991. The songs may or may not grab you, but this book has the best goddess cover ever.

If you think some of the items included are from pure self indulgence, I expect you’re right. But I had to get them in. I shall be 72 this month. I may not get another chance before my sell-by date comes up.

Th' Antique Roadshow

Will be appearing:
Nick Caffrey has been involved in the Lancashire folk scene for over twenty five years, both as a singer and folk club organiser. His past work with groups like Litany and Wassailers (LP on Fellside FE012) has brought a wealth of good songs to Th'Antique Roadshow. Nick is renowned for his unaccompanied solo singing of traditional ballads and songs.

George Critchley has also had over twenty five years involvement in the folk scene, both as a singer and a dancer. He was a founder member of Stoney Broke, Foxes Lair and the Roebuck Singers. As a dancer with Preston Royal Morris Team he attracted a wide circle of friends throughout Britain. After a hard days dancing he would enliven the evening celebration with his fine accompanied singing and lead voice in unaccompanied harmony chorus songs.

Rob Malaney became involved with contemporary folk music in the 1960's. A singer songwriter performing in coffee bars, pubs and youth clubs.

He became interested in classical music and in the 1970's studied at the Blackburn School of Music. By the early 1980’s he had moved onto the traditional folk scene and has made a reputation as a fine singer and musician. Rob’s skill as a songwriter is gaining steady recognition. His song “Breathe with Me” is becoming a club standard throughout Britain.

The three excellent singers who make up Th'Antique Roadshow have quickly become a byword in entertainment. High quality singing, both solo and harmony, a sense of fun and pure enjoyment of performance has led to their being much sought after as guests in both clubs and concerts.

Nick Caffrey, George Critchley and Rob Malaney have pooled their vast experience and talents to form a trio whose aim is to present traditional and contemporary songs in a pleasing, infectious manner, and to leave their audience feeling that they had a “very good night out”.

THWAITES
FAMILY BREWERS SINCE 1807
THE CLEVELAND FOLK CLUB (1985)

Goes "FULL CIRCLE" (1995), then 'On and On'.....

The CLEVELAND FOLK CLUB opened in October 1985, then moved to other venues in 1990 & 1991, returning to The CLEVELAND in 1995. Thus the change of title to the FULL CIRCLE FOLK CLUB.

Moving on again, through various other venues, connections to the 1985 CLEVELAND & FULL CIRCLE days still attend the PARKSIDE club.

Some 'run' indeed - 25 years.
